What a great sleepover

SEVERAL Girl Guides and leaders from Port Macquarie, Wauchope and Camden Haven travelled to Sydney recently to take part in the Great Guide Sleepover 2011 at Taronga Zoo.

Approximately 1600 girls and their mentors from throughout NSW attended and had a fantastic time as they slept under the stars

(no tents allowed), waking up bright and early on Saturday morning to witness the wonderful early morning sounds of exotic zoo animals and the busy hustle and bustle of Sydney Harbour.

This year's theme was Frogs, Frills and Fun and money raised from the weekend goes back to the zoo towards endangered animals, with 2011 being the year to help the threatened Southern Corroboree Frog.

The locals made a weekend of it and spent Saturday night at Glengarry, before heading home exhausted on Sunday afternoon with many great stories of adventure for their family and friends.
