Sizzling support for local families

27 January 2012

Woolworths Sylvania hosted a fundraising barbeque and meat raffle outside its store in Southgate Shopping Centre for the benefit of Girl Guides. Volunteers from Lilli Pilli Girl Guides assisted Store Manager Kane New serve sausage sandwiches to customers and passers-by, raising over $800 to go towards training new Girl Guide leaders.

Mr New said that the barbeque was a great opportunity to foster a link between the store and the community. "We're proud to support Girl Guides as they strengthen communities and provide support for local families. Woolworths is committed to helping to sustain the communities that support our stores."

Lilli Pilli Girl Guide Leader, Sue-Ellen Cox and her three daughters Tennille, Linley and Mackenzie enjoyed working together to raise funds. "It's a great opportunity to do something together. It keeps me connected. The girls really enjoy interacting with the public, and it's good for their confidence."

Mrs Cox is currently wearing many hats as the sole volunteer Leader at Lilli Pilli and is seeking local mums to give Guides a go. She is a firm believer that the benefits to the girls are worth the small amount of time required for parents to help out.

Girl Guides enables girls and young women to grow into confident, self respecting, responsible community members. For more information, call 1300 447 548 or visit www.girlguides-nswact.org.au.
